

All-Star Selection Process

After the 2009 regular season, selected Plantation Athletic Little League players will participate in an in-house All-star tournament and Little League All-star World Series tournaments. The rules for the forming of those teams are described herein.

All-Stars –In House

Coaches Selection process

Head Coaches shall be board selected in all age divisions

In-House Player Selection Process:

7/8U Division – 4 teams of 12

2 American League All-star teams and 2 National League All-star teams shall be formed in the 8U division. Each team shall select 2 players to participate in the All-star game. Players shall be divided first by division, American or National, and then by final division standings. Players from the 1st, 3rd, 5th, 7th and 9th placed teams shall be selected and placed on team A, and players from the 2nd, 4th, 6th and 8th placed teams shall be selected and placed on team B. Each coaching staff shall pick from the remaining pool of players in their respective division until they reach a team total of 12 players. Picks shall alternate starting with the first pick going to team B.

9/10U and 11/12U Divisions – 4 teams of 12

2 American League All-star teams and 2 National League All-star teams shall be formed in both 9/10 and 11/12 divisions. Each team shall select 2 players to participate in the All-star game. Players shall be divided first by division, American or National, and then by final division standings. Players from the 1st, 3rd, 5th and 7th placed teams shall be placed on team A, and players from the 2nd, 4th, 6th and 8th placed teams shall be placed on team B. Each coaching staff shall pick from the remaining pool of players in their respective division until they reach a team total of 12 players. Picks shall alternate starting with the first pick going to team B.

Tournament Team Selection Process-All age divisions (9-16)

2 teams 9/10U

2 teams 10/11

2 teams 11/12

2 teams 13/14

1 team 15/16

Coaches Selection Process

Head Coaches shall be board selected in all age groups

Player Selection Process

A selection committee consisting of 3 coaches within the division, the board selected Head Coach and the division administrator shall be formed to select the players. The selection committee shall be board appointed. The selection committee shall conform to all Little League rules regarding the selection process. The committee shall select the desired amount of players, not less than 12 and no more than 14, to form 1 team from the American division and 1 team from the National League division. The players from the divisions cannot be mixed, combined or traded. The committee's sole responsibility is to select the appropriate players who exhibit the highest level of skills, dedication and sportsmanship necessary to compete at this level. There are no requirements regarding specific team participation levels, the top players in the division will be selected regardless of team affiliation.

Player / Parent Responsibilities

The selection of a player to a tournament teams will require participation in practices and games, possibly through the end of August. Parents and players must understand and commit to the participation levels required. Travel will be required; travelling out of the city and out of the state is possible.